IN ONE BREATH

prod.mason is Mason Dean, a Baltimore producer and audio engineer making standalone instrumental music, hip hop and electronica at the core, pulling from everything. Making beats since 2013, on fifty-plus records across Baltimore and New York City, with a sharp technical ear behind the board for music and film alike.

BIO

prod.mason is the working name of Mason Dean, a producer and audio engineer in Baltimore by way of New York City. He grew up under his father's DJing in the basement and started making beats in 2013, looping records on the turntables before the work moved to a Maschine in 2015. His 2020 album Alignment laid out the sound: standalone instrumental music, hip hop and electronica at the core, pulling from everything, built to be the main event rather than just a bed for vocals. Since then his production has landed on fifty-plus records across the Baltimore and New York City independent scenes, often with his own hands on the recording, mix, and master. By day he installs audio visual systems in venues like Camden Yards and M&T Bank Stadium; behind the board he runs fast, efficient sessions with a sharp technical ear, in music and in sound for film and TV. He operates under Mason Dean LLC.
